10 GO-TO RESOURCES

for Parents & Teachers of Dys Children

provided by LogoPsyCom

EXCLUSIVE SOURCES CAREFULLY SELECTED FOR YOU

We have made it our mission to support people with learning disorders in their daily lives through various projects and activities.

We look back on years of experience and have been able to assist many children, youngsters, and adults with our outcomes.

For this very reason, we have dealt with many different sources and have here an exclusive selection of useful resources that can be a support in everyday life for Dys children, their parents and their teachers.

your Logopsycom Team

DYSPRAXIATHECA

DYSPRAXIATHECA is the first European database which provides pedagogical content targeting children with learning disorders between the age of 6 and 15. Developed from a transnational European project, it provides online support for teachers' lesson planning, practical advice for parents and teachers, and ebooks for children available to use free.

01

www DYSPRAXIATHECA.EU

02

U Understood®

Understanding the other person's perspective - this is always important, especially in relation to children's learning disorders. This website is an outstanding tool for understanding what people with difficulties in learning are facing in everyday life and gives relatives the opportunity to experience what it is like to be in their shoes.

www UNDERSTOOD.ORG
100+ IDEAS

This practical handbook named "100+ Ideas for Supporting Children with Dyslexia" is designed to support anyone who is working with children and young adults with dyslexia. The authors Gavin Reid and Shannon Green the authors provide more than 100 great suggestions to enhance the students' learning experience.

ISBN: 978-0826434166

TutoDYS is a project that aims to improve basic skills for children with learning disorders. The target group is 6 to 12 year-olds. The content is varied and ranges from general knowledge to reading, writing, and speaking. In addition, STEM education has a major focus as well.
TUTODYS.ORG

05

MOOCDys

Mooc Dys offers a learning platform primarily aimed at parents as well as teachers of children with learning disorders. Also, the concerned children themselves will find valuable resources here. In addition, 30 tips and tricks are provided once for parents and once for teachers.

www MOOCDYS.EU

A Story About DYSLEXIA
SPECIAL STORIES

TOM'S SPECIAL TALENT
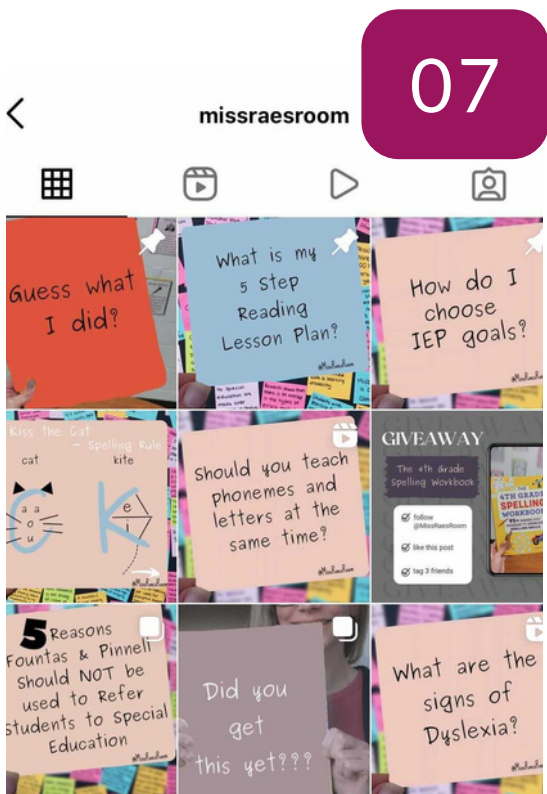

by Kate Gaynor Illustrated By Eva Byrne

06

TOM'S SPECIAL TALENT

An illustrated children's book by Kate Gaynor that opens up a fun and positive approach to learning disabilities in a child-friendly way. It helps children to believe in themselves and their own strengths.

ISBN: 978-0956175106

A charmingly managed Instagram page by a teacher called Miss Rae that addresses the needs of children with dyslexia. Many helpful hints and illustrative tips are given to make everyday school life easier for children with reading disorders and to include them in the classroom.

www @MISSRAESROOM

The goal of the project EdComix is to use comics for learning the English language. Therefore, the website provides various tools for teachers that are focused on the creation as well as the integration of comics as an inclusive learning resource in the classroom.

www EDCOMIX.EU

08

OpenDyslexic

This website presents a fabulous feature to make reading easier for anyone with dyslexia: a specially designed font. The special design of the letters makes it easier to see which part of the letter is at the bottom and furthermore strengthens reading in one line. The font is freely available for download.

OPENDYSLEXIC.ORG

DIGITALL

In today's increasingly digitized world, the project DigitALL serves a special purpose: it has set as its objective to enhance the inclusiveness of online teaching and to introduce parents and teachers to the possibilities of technologies and digital-related skills.

DIGITALL-PROJECT.EU

10

09